January Sale of Hart Schaffner & Marx Suits.

WE recently purchased, and have placed on sale, at great price concessions, a large portion of the surplus stock of Hart Schaffner & Marx Suits. This sale is one of importance, as the styles and colorings are as attractive and up-to-date as if they had been made especially for us. In connection with the above we offer another special purchase from a well-known New York firm at a great reduction from former prices.

Also several broken lines from our regular stock made by Hart Schaffner & Marx and other reliable makers; on sale at prices well worth investigating.

They are mostly blues and grays, in the popular and stylish striped effects—fine suits in every respect, from the set of the collars (which hug the neck closely) to the finish of the buttonholes. In fact, just what careful dressers want.

Sizes to fit all types of men.

Lot 1—Men's Suits at $19.75.

Values up to $30.00.

Lot 2—Men's and Young Men's Suits at $14.75.

Values up to $22.50.

Special Sale of Men's Unlaundered Shirts.

A N Eastern manufacturer of Men's Unlaundered Shirts, of which we have been the exclusive Washington distributor for more than twenty years, has sent us about 20 dozen of his best production, at a price concession. The bodies are made of Wamsutta—the very best shirting cotton, with pure linen bosoms; completely finished, re-enforced fronts, backs, and shoulders.

Owing to the high advance in cotton, the manufacturer has discontinued this shirt, and has sent us all he had, which we shall place on sale this morning at the Special price, $1.00 each.

All sizes are in the lot; but we can secure no more. We have received a new line of the popular Crochet Ties in a new weave; plain colors and striped.

SMART SET AT DANCE

Bachelors' Cottillion Attracts Fashionable Leaders.

ROOM DECORATED IN YELLOW

Guests Are Received by Countess von Bernstorff, Wife of German Ambassador—Supper Served at Small Tables—Senator and Mrs. Elkins Give Dinner Party.

The Bachelors' second cottillion this season, in the ballroom of the New Willard, last night, was a "yellow german," and one of the prettiest this smart and famous organization has ever given. The ballroom was decorated with yellow flowers in profusion, and the lights were shaded yellow. The Marine Band played for the dancing.

The guests, which included the smartest dancing men and women in society, and some distinguished ones not in the dancing set, were received by Countess von Bernstorff, wife of the German Ambassador. The presentations were made by the president of the Bachelors, Mr. Gist Blair. Mr. Franklin Ellis led the cottillion. The favors consisted of decorated wands, with bunches of yellow blossoms, and tied with yellow ribbons; lamp shades of yellow silk, and handkerchief cases of yellow silk for the women, and cravat holders, cases, and pocketbooks, and bill books, in pinks, all in yellow, for the men.

Flower favors, always among the prettiest of the figures, were yellow tulips, jonquils, and roses, and made a beautiful collection in one end of the ballroom, before they were used. The supper was served at small tables.

Among the guests of honor were the governor of Massachusetts and Mrs. Eben Draper and their daughter, Miss Draper, of Boston, and Mr. and Mrs. Van Rensselaer and Mr. Willard Spencer, of Philadelphia. Other guests were the Austrian Ambassador and Baroness Hengelmueller, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Walnwright, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Nicholson, Lieut. and Mrs. U. S. Grant, third; Mr. and Mrs. Henry White, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Story, Capt. and Mrs. Summerlin, Baron de Bode, of the Russian Embassy, and his sister, the Baroness de Bode; Maj. and Mrs. David D. Porter, Capt. and Mrs. Evans (nee Townsend), Miss Newberry, Mrs. Bulmer, Miss Durr, Miss Southernland, Miss Hineckley, Miss Clover, Miss Merriam, Miss Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. Ovey, Miss Helen Parker, Miss Katherine Britton, Mr. and Mrs. Lars Anderson, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Charles L. McCawley, Capt. Vance, Commander Russell White, Mr. and Mrs. William Henry, Col. and Mrs. Archibald Graef, Mr. and Mrs. McConihe, Mrs. Huggins, Mrs. Moran, Mr. von Stumm, Mr. Centaro, Mr.

Hubbard, Lieut. Sweet, Capt. McLean, Capt. McNalle, Mr. Marrow, and Mr. Tallhand.

Senator and Mrs. Elkins entertained a dinner company last evening in their K street home. Their guests were Mr. Justice and Mrs. Brewer, Senator and Mrs. Dooliver, Senator and Mrs. Bailey, Senator and Mrs. Scott, Senator and Mrs. Dixon, Senator Tallaferra, Senator Burton, Miss Cannon, Representative and Mrs. James A. Hayes, Representative and Mrs. Gaines, of West Virginia; Representative and Mrs. H. C. Woodard, Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, Mrs. Stanley Matthews, Mrs. Richard McCormick, former Senator Henry G. Davis, and Mr. John Barrett, director of the Bureau of American Republics.

Mrs. James F. Barbour was hostess at dinner last evening for young people for her debutante daughter, Miss Marguerite Barbour. The guests were Maj. and Mrs. David D. Porter, Capt. and Mrs. Evans, Miss Carol Newberry, Miss Katherine Britton, Miss Helen Parker, Miss Elsie Downing, Lieut. Sweet, Capt. McLean, Capt. McNalle, Mr. William Marrow, and Mr. Hubbard.

The Danish Minister and Countess von Moltke were dinner hosts last evening.

Mrs. James Marion Johnston entertained at a small tea yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer, of Philadelphia, who, with Mr. Van Rensselaer, is her house guest. Mrs. Stanton, sister of the hostess, poured tea. Mr. and Mrs. Johnston entertained at dinner last evening in honor of their guests. The company went later to the cottillion.

A large tea was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. W. V. Cox and her sister, Miss Mary Emery, in the old home of their father, the late Matthew G. Emery. Their guests included hundreds of the old residents, who form such an interesting and important coterie of Washington society, and whose ancestors had much to do with the early history of the District.

Mrs. Cox, whose home is the old place at Brightwood, used by her parents as their summer home, and her sister received the guests, assisted by their other sister, Mrs. Henkle, and Mrs. Cox's young daughter, Hazel Cox, a bud of next year. The drawing-rooms, with their rich old fashioned settings, were decorated with American Beauties in large bunches. The table in the dining-room was beautiful with trimmings of pink and old fashioned silverware. The house is closely connected with the history of the District, having been occupied at different times by Gen. U. S. Grant and family and by Gen. Sherman.

Mrs. George Bowie Chipman entertained a large company at tea yesterday afternoon in her pretty home, 1728 Lamont street. The house was tastefully decorated with pink carnations in the drawing-rooms and hall. Mrs. Chipman received her guests alone, in a gown of pale blue satin, made in a draped princess style, with rose point lace about the top of the neck and about the edge of the elbow sleeves. Mrs. Henry Clay Merrill, sister of the hostess, and Miss Margaret Graham, of Virginia, presided at the tea table, which had a centerpiece of yellow jonquils with yellow accessories. Mrs. Merrill wore a gown of black satin, embroidered in gold. Miss Graham was in an empire gown of peacock green, embroidered with crystals.

Mrs. Chipman will be at home on Wednesday afternoons throughout the season. Mr. and Mrs. Byron Andrews have returned to Washington and opened their apartment in the Mendota. Mrs. Andrews joined Mr. Andrews in New York on her arrival from Europe, where she spent the summer with Mr. Andrews' sister, Miss Alice Andrews, of Maryland. Mr. Andrews spent his summer on their ranch in the northwest section of the country.

Mrs. Gilson, of New York, widow of Mr. William H. Gilson, of New York, an old and well-known resident of this city, is visiting Rev. and Mrs. Samuel H. Greene, at their home, 1329 Q street. This is the first visit Mrs. Gilson has made to her old home since the death of her husband. In September a year ago. Since then she has made her home with her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Fleming, at 471 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Depew, wife of the Senator from New York, will be at home this afternoon in her N street residence.

Mrs. Charles Arthur Barnard will be at home this afternoon at 1811 Wyoming avenue.

Mrs. E. Russell White, of 2114 Connecticut avenue, will not be at home this afternoon.

Mrs. L. H. Campbell, of New York, a former resident of Washington, is visiting friends and relatives in Washington.

Miss Alexandra K. Anderson has cards out for a tea to-morrow afternoon in honor of Mrs. Mejia, wife of the Minister from Salvador, and her daughters, the Misses Mejia.

Miss Patten entertained at tea yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Eben S. Draper, wife of the governor of Massachusetts, and Miss Draper, who are here with Gov. Draper for the week.

Miss Bristol, of the Bristol School, has cards out for two "at homes" next Monday and the Monday following, January 24 and 25.

GOLDEN WEDDING OBSERVED

Rev. Dr. S. S. Laws and Mrs. Laws Married Fifty Years.

Noted Theologian, Scholar, and Set-entist Invented Stock Exchange "Ticker" and Made Fortune.

With the parlor of their home, 1733 Q street, decorated with greens and flowers, Rev. Dr. S. S. Laws, theologian, scholar, and scientist, and Mrs. Laws celebrated the golden anniversary of their wedding last night. In the receiving party besides Dr. and Mrs. Laws were Mrs. Davidson, of Falls Church, Va.; Mrs. J. W. Spencer, Miss Willis, and Miss Wilkinson.

Dr. Laws is the sole inventor of the stock quotation "ticker," and made a fortune after he sold the reporting system to the Western Union Telegraph Company. Although born in Virginia nearly eighty-six years ago, his boyhood life was spent in Ohio, where his parents moved. He was graduated from Miami University and later studied theology at Princeton. He accepted a pastorate in St. Louis, but later drifted to professional pursuits, and later became president of Miami.

After the outbreak of the civil war he was paroled and went to France, but on his return to this country became vice president of the gold exchange, a branch of the New York Stock Exchange. He was married in 1860 to Miss Anna Brockwell, daughter of William Brockwell, a prominent citizen of Pulten, Mo.

Harvey Spalding Laid at Rest. Funeral services for Harvey Spalding were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Spalding residence, 1963 Biltmore street, Rev. Dr. Ulysses G. B. Pierce, pastor of All Souls' Unitarian Church, officiating. Interment was in Rock Creek Cemetery.
